MORE GOOD NEWS ABOUT THE FLOOD.

RESCUE STEAMERS AT MEMPHIS HAVE NOTHING TO DO.

LEVEES IN FINE CONDITION.

At Paducah, However, the River Is Rising and Some of the Street Railway Tracks Are Flooded.

The condition of the rivers in the flooded districts, expressed in feet and tenths, is as follows:

Rises: Chattanooga 0.1, Louisville 0.4, Cairo 0.2, St. Louis 0.4, Kansas City 2.3, Vicksburg 0.6, Arkansas City 0.7.

Falls: Memphis 0.1, Nashville 1.3.

They are above the danger line and rising at Cairo 11.5, Vicksburg 0.4, Arkansas City 0.1.

Helena, Ark., 12.4 and stationary.

They are above the danger line and falling at Nashville 3.8, Memphis 3.8.

The following heavy precipitation (in inches) was reported: Sydney 1.72, Chicago 1, Jacksonville 1.42.

The river at St. Louis will rise slightly during the next twenty-four hours, and more rapidly on Thursday, remaining, however, under 22 feet up to Friday. The Mississippi will rise rapidly, and the upper Mississippi slowly.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 24.—The flood situation to-day is very encouraging. Good news continues to pour in and at this writing it looks as if the worst was over. Rescue steamers are anchored in port with nothing to do, the work of the Citizens' Committee being now confined to the care of the thousands of refugees in the city. The Mississippi River is falling, the gauge showing a drop of 0.1 in eighteen hours.

DISMAL POINT, TWELVE MILES BELOW MEMPHIS.

The sun is shining brightly, and reports from all levee telegraph stations declare that the land protectors are in ship-shape. Memphians in consequence are more cheerful than for weeks.

CAIRO, Ill., March 24.—The people of Cairo made a desperate fight all last night and saved their levees. The gale blew down the bulkheads and waves flowed over into the city, but the citizens reaped the bulkheads and kept the river out. Men, women and children worked in the cold and darkness, making a Spartan defense. This morning two trains loaded with sacks of earth in Cairo were sent to Mound City to help in the fight and danger is now thought to be over.

The gale struck the Cairo levees at the highest and strongest point and did no damage. The Big Four Railroad has had a desperate fight to save its tracks between North Cairo and the Cache River, but they are now thought to be secure. A bulkhead was built there next to the river. Cribbs containing 600 bushels of corn on Cache Island belonging to Charles Conant were blown into the river and lost last night.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

PADUCAH, Ky., March 24.—The river is fifty-one feet and still rising. The rise was two inches last night and the river was so rough that crafts could not venture from the shore. There are at least 250 pupils cut off from school in the business part of town and part of the street railways are abandoned on account of the tracks being covered. Last night a meeting was called and presided over by Mayor Teller for the relief of sufferers and $150 was made up on the spot. Commissioners were appointed and to-day are busy soliciting funds. Homeless people are being kept at the City Hall and hospital. The wind and current carried off many out-houses, barns and fences last night and to-day goods everywhere are being moved to places of safety. All the boats are today tied up. A barge containing 2,000 bushels of corn was sunk on Owen's Island last night.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

HELENA, Ark., March 24.—The breaks in the levees at Modoc, Ark., and Rescue, Miss., are having the effect of causing the river to stand on the gauge here at 0.5 feet. There has been no rise in the last twelve hours. How long this will last depends on the amount of water coming out of the St. Francis swamps through the St. Francis River and the condition of the weather. This morning the sun is shining and the SOUTHERN POPULISTS ANGRY.

Middle-of-the-Roaders Who Sold Themselves to Hanna Find They Were Beautifully Buncoed.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 24.—The Southern "Middle-of-the-Road" Populists who accepted Hanna's money and promises and worked for McKinley during the campaign have declared war against their employer and his party. They have been demanding pie ever since March 4, but have been given no encouragement at the White House. Their demands upon Hanna have been laughed at and they have been turned down in every direction. In retaliation the "Middle-of-the-Road" wing has declared that it will not coalesce with the Republicans in the South.

J. C. Manning of Alabama, a new and youthful convert to the cause of Republicanism in the South, is mad all over. Manning was a candidate for Third Assistant Postmaster-General and was here at the inauguration ready to take the job the next day. But, somehow, he did not have the endorsement of the old-line Republican bosses in his State and the days passed on, while hope dwindled to a minute speck in the far horizon. Last night Mr. Manning came out in a card announcing that rather than be mixed up in the scramble for spoils now going on among the Alabama Republicans, he withdrew.

He and his friends are unquestionably mad. They say there is no doubt of the old ring controlling the patronage that goes to the Southern States and there is no chance for anybody else. Men like William Youngblood, who is the Alabama boss, they say, do not propose there shall be any white accessions to the Republican party in their respective States. Manning's chief claim to fame has rested on the fact that he was President of the Southern Ballot Rights League, in which capacity he furnished campaign trunks about Southern election frauds. He was a Populist and at one time a member of the Alabama Legislature, but came out last June as a supporter of McKinley, and did some "spelling" in New York, Philadelphia and other Eastern States.

Manning's friends say that the Southern Republicans were profligate in their promises when they were playing for Populist aid, begging that Watson be kept in the field, but now propose to crowd Populists and all other newcomers to the wall, wanting all the pelf for themselves.

The Hannates merely say that they bought the "Middle-of-the-Road" wing once and can do it again whenever their services are worth anything.

CRETANS WANT UNION OR WAR.

DEFINITE ANSWER TO THE PROPOSALS OF THE POWERS.

TURKEY HEEDS A PROTEST.

Startling Reports Regarding the Strength of the Turkish Forces on the Frontier.

ATHENS, March 24.—A dispatch from Canea says that the insurgent commander-in-chief at Akrotiri this morning referred the proposal of the powers to grant autonomy to Crete to the various leaders of the insurgent forces who had assembled from different parts of the island. The Cretan leaders unanimously declared that only two issues were possible—the annexation of the Island of Crete to Greece or fighting until death ends the struggle for the union.

CONSTANTINOPLE, March 24.—A special trade was issued by the Sultan this morning calling out for active service forty-four battalions of the reserves of the Second Army Corps and also summoning to the colors the whole of the contingent of 1897.

ATHENS, March 24.—Advices from Arta say that as a result of the protest of Greece, Turkey has stopped the construction of fortifications at Preveza, at the northern entrance of the Gulf of Arta, which was contrary to the stipulations of the treaty of Berlin.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CARUTHERSVILLE, Mo., March 24.—It can be safely asserted that the river is stationary, though there are no hopes of its falling for at least a week yet. No further crevasses have occurred, but several miles of levees are still in a critical condition, the water being within two or three inches of the top. If the river rises six inches more it will sweep over three miles of levee north of here like a tidal wave. The water is now eighteen inches above the top of the original levee and is being held back by a slender and hastily built mound of mud.

Every inch of available house room in this place is filled with flood sufferers, who have been driven from their homes. Two old school-houses, which the town had outgrown and abandoned, are furnishing shelter to from four to five families each, and the great mill and cotton gins are serving as temporary homes. The Methodist church even is full, and last night one family took refuge in the city calaboose.

CEDAR RAPIDS, Mich., March 24.—The Cedar River last night reached its highest point since 1884. The gauge showed the water had reached a mark 13 feet above low water mark. A large portion of West Co.

SCENE AT MARION, ARK.

"KEEP IT UP, MR. DINGLEY."

From the New York Evening Telegram.

SAD DEATH OF OLLIE GOSHORN.

MONTGOMERY COUNTY GIRL SENT HOME A CORPSE.

CAME HERE IN TROUBLE.

A Physician, Trying to Conceal Her Shame, Performs an Operation Which Results Fatally.

Ollie Goshorn, the 22-year-old daughter of William Goshorn, Montgomery County, Mo., came to St. Louis January 15. On March 15 she died at 2550 Olive street, and two days later her body was shipped to her father's home. Her relatives were informed that she died from bleeding at the stomach. She was taken to the Mortuary office show that, according to Dr. J. C. Thurman, the attending physician, puerperal fever caused the death.

Between these two dates, January 15 and March 15, there is a strange history. The poor girl, whose body now lies in a grave in Montgomery County, was subjected to treatment that caused great suffering and, in fact, one report has it that the Turkish leader attempted to place her in a cage as if she were a fugitive from justice. She was taken in ambulances at the dead of night, and at last, when her troubled spirit found rest in eternal sleep, a dead wagon carried the remains to an undertaker.

It will be necessary in telling this story to mention a number of persons. The majority of them had nothing to do with the girl's suffering; indeed, they befriended her as much as lay in their power. Others were the innocent tools of the principals.

William Goshorn is one of the wealthiest citizens of Montgomery County. He is a farmer and stock raiser and lives in a fine country residence one mile south of Gammaria. He has four daughters and two sons. The girls are extremely popular in Gammaria. They are pretty and well educated. The two eldest attend at a boarding school. The third daughter in point of age, was graduated two years ago from the Gamma High School. She was a typical country lass and her first visit to St. Louis was made a year after graduation.

When Ollie was a little girl at Gammaria two of her schoolmates were Otto Eckardt and Riley McIntosh. The boys came to St. Louis after leaving school. McIntosh was given a start by his father and opened a barber shop at 708 Market street, where he is at present located. Eckardt decided to embark in the grocery business and he is now at Clark avenue and Sixteenth street. In their school days Otto and Ollie were sweethearts. They corresponded after he came to St. Louis, and finally, when he made a visit to Gammaria last summer, they became engaged.

From this time until the middle of January, so Eckardt claims, he did not see her. Then, so the story goes, he walked into his store one day, told him she was in trouble and begged his assistance. Eckardt told her to find a boarding place and she finally located at 1418 Lucas place, the home of Mrs. Wingate. A week later Ollie left this house and went to 2124 Olive street. On February 2 she went to Gammaria with Eckardt. They were absent three days, the girl returning to 2124 Olive. On February 10 she left the boarding place and went to 303 Olive street. At 11 o'clock on the night of February 17 she was taken in an ambulance from 303 Olive to the City Hospital. According to records at this institution, she was sent to the Female Hospital. On February 23, the records at the Female Hospital show that she was admitted on March 1 and remained until March 2. She was discharged cured. She was then taken to 2550 Olive street, where she died on March 15.

What happened at these places and what caused the death is told by the persons who were connected with the girl, in one manner or another.

WORK OF TRAMPS.

A Woman and Two Girls Burned to Death and a Boy Also Missing.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 24.—A terrible affair is reported from Paradise Ridge, in this county, a rural settlement, thirteen miles from Nashville. The house of Jacob Ade, a German farmer, was partly burned and in the ashes were found the charred remains of Ade, his wife, his daughter, Lizzie, aged 14, and the 10-year-old daughter of Henry Molter, a neighbor, who was spending the night with the Ales. Henry Ade, a boy about 10 years old, is missing and no trace can be found of him in any direction.

The bodies were all so badly burned that it was not easy to discover marks of violence on their persons, but it is a rational conclusion that they were all murdered before the house was set on fire. The dead is supposed to have been the work of tramps, who have been very numerous in the locality of late. Officers from Nashville went out to Paradise Ridge early this morning, carrying bloodhounds, and every endeavor will be made to discover the perpetrators of the terrible deed.

SLATE BILL TO BE VETOED.

GOV. STEPHENS POSITIVELY ANNOUNCES HIS INTENTION.

SLATE MADE A HARD FIGHT.

The Measure Had an Interesting History and Numerous Very Narrow Escapes.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., March 24.—To-day Gov. Stephens announced positively that he would not approve the Slate assessment bill. He has not yet written his formal message of disapproval, but the veto is certain.

Mr. Slate is here yet. He has labored hard to persuade the Governor to approve the bill, but has failed. Great pressure has been brought to bear on the Governor in favor of a veto, many hundreds of messages having been received from merchants of the State.

The Slate bill has a history. It was introduced early in the session, and from the very beginning of its legislative course it was the subject of violent opposition. When the bill came up in the House for engrossment, three days' time was devoted to its discussion. It was materially amended, and after still further discussion it passed the House. Then it was passed by the Senate just at the close of the session. No bill ever introduced in the Missouri Legislature had a more rugged road to travel, and in view of the violent opposition that the bill encountered, the wonder is that it was passed. The constitutional majority necessary to the passage of a bill in the House is seventy-one votes. The Slate bill had exactly that number, and one vote less would have defeated it. After a long struggle before the Ways and Means Committee in the Senate, it was reported favorably in that end of the legislative mill.

At 10 o'clock Saturday a resolution was adopted in the Senate providing that after 12 o'clock on that day no more bills should be considered. Just before 12 o'clock the Slate bill was called up and thoroughly discussed. On roll call it had nineteen votes, one more than the constitutional majority. Here was another narrow escape. In fact, the bill had narrow escapes at every turn. From the time of its introduction it has apparently had both feet in the grave, and the most aggressive work on the part of Mr. Slate and his friends has been necessary to get the bill through. Mr. Slate is a typical Missourian and is a stayer.

MERIWETHER FACTION PRESENTS A WEAK ARGUMENT.

HARRISON MEN ENCOURAGED.

Bolters Produce No Legal Claims for Regularity Before the Board of Election Commissioners.

The Board of Election Commissioners met at 11 o'clock Wednesday morning to hear the arguments in regard to the legality of the Harrison and the Meriwether conventions and to decide from the evidence submitted which of the two tickets shall go upon the ballot under the caption "Regular Democratic Ticket."

President G. W. Jones of the Board opened the session by announcing that side would be given one hour to its argument.

President Jones, Thad C. Harris, a retary William Flewellyn Saunders, at the meeting.

Sterling P. Bond, chairman of the Meriwether convention, and Attorney George B. Stear appeared in behalf of the Meriwether ticket.

Given Campbell was the attorney selected to present the argument for the Harrison ticket.

City Counselor Marshall was present and gave instructions to the board as to the regular way of proceeding with the hearing. A. C. Maroney, Secretary of the Democratic City Executive Committee, and a strong Harrison supporter, Thomas E. Harrett, Secretary of the Harrison Campaign Committee and Secretary of the Harrison Convention, and Col. Ed Devoy, Chairman of the Democratic City Executive Committee, were present.

John J. Fitzwilliam, Secretary of the Meriwether Convention, came in while the meeting was being called to order.

Bond, F. Brady of the Harrison forces and Judge Henry L. Edmunds, who was a delegate from the Twenty-eighth Ward in the convention, also entered the room.

As neither side could agree on the opening argument, President Jones decided that Mr. Bond should first proceed with an argument for Mr. Meriwether.

Mr. Bond began by saying that the Harrison people claimed no legal delegates in their convention, but that it was a regular one, and that some delegates had changed their mind since the vote on the temporary chairman of the convention.

Mr. Bond declared that Dr. F. J. Lutz was never legally elected temporary chairman. President Jones interrupted by saying that the Board had decided that it had nothing to do with the question of electing temporary officers.

On suggestion of City Counselor Marshall, Mr. Bond was allowed to proceed with his argument as to the temporary organization of the convention. Mr. Bond proceeded by arguing that Dr. Lutz was not the temporary chairman, as Mr. Devoy did not agree that another man should be nominated for temporary chairman. Mr. Bond argued that he was placed in nomination regularly and regularly elected temporary chairman by a vote, that Mr. Fitzwilliam was elected temporary secretary by a vote. These temporary delegates were elected by a vote of the delegates, and thus the Meriwether people had organized a legal convention.

Before this convention the candidates for Mayor were placed in nomination—Noonan, Brown and Meriwether. That convention proceeded regularly by calling the wards for a vote on Mayor. The delegates from the Twenty-eighth Ward in the convention, and voted for Noonan, thus recognizing that convention as regular. These delegates from these two wards had sat in the Harrison Convention and seen other delegates holding Election Board certificates had voted in the convention under a Ribbman name, and had afterwards remained in the Harrison Convention. Mr. Bond argued that these thirty-seven delegates could not sit in two conventions.

Secretary Saunders asked for evidence on this point. Mr. Bond presented the affidavits from the individual delegates to prove his stand. Given Campbell objected on the ground that the Meriwether people had no right to introduce any evidence before 4 o'clock Tuesday, the limit set by the Board for the filing of evidence in accordance with the rules.

Mr. Marshall, on behalf of the Board, wanted to know why Mr. Bond had not filed his evidence in accordance with the rules. Mr. Bond explained by saying that the Board had asked for affidavits from the Chairman of ward delegations as to which convention had a majority of delegates holding credentials from the Election Board. He had affidavits from individual delegates to disprove the affidavits of the fifteen Chairman of ward delegations who said those delegations voted for Lutz and in the Harrison Convention. He did not deem it expedient to file his evidence in the form of these affidavits on Tuesday, as he reserved them to present as rebuttal evidence on the day of the hearing, Wednesday.

Mr. Bond read from "Devoy's Run," to prove that he (Bond) had been legally elected temporary Chairman. He argued that Chairman Devoy simply announced in calling the convention to order that the City Committee has selected Dr. Lutz for temporary chairman, had handed Lutz the gavel without ever putting another candidate to be placed in nomination, and did not call for a vote at all. That settled that Lutz's alleged irregular and without support of parliamentary usage.

Mr. Bond then ended his argument by claiming that the Meriwether people were the only ones who organized a convention in a regular and parliamentary way. He said that the board should not believe that there was any attempt on the part of the Meriwether people to do anything but arrive at the facts.

Given Campbell, representing the Harrison ticket, began at 11:20 o'clock by saying that the Masonic Hall Convention was called regularly by the Democratic City Executive Committee, and that Dr. Lutz was the temporary Chairman, presided over it and adjourned that Convention upon the call of the officers. Whether any vote was taken or not, Mr. Campbell said, Dr. Lutz had the "color of office" as the lawyers say, because the Convention accepted Dr. Lutz's adjournment and he held the

Gov. Stephens Will Hear Arguments Regarding It

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., March 24.—It is probable that Governor Stephens will veto the so-called Horse Breeders' pool-selling bill. His signature has not yet been affixed and it is expected that he will take some time to look into the bill thoroughly. In fact, he is going to hear arguments for and against the bill before making a decision that it be vetoed, while there are others who think that he will sign it. Governor Stephens says he is inclined to look upon the bill as licensing gambling at a very cheap price, and he is inclined to think that it is unconstitutional, and would not stand the test of the Supreme Court.

There is a difference of opinion here as to whether the bill is unconstitutional. The reference to "power or endurance of man or beast" which appears in the bill, is the only part that under the provisions of the bill prize to whether the Horse breeders' pool selling bill contains a provision to license prize fighting. Some lawyers say that it does, while other authorities do not put that con-stratation upon it. Gov. Stephens was asked what he thought about it this morning. He said: "I do not care to express an opinion just at this time. I have not yet approved the bill and desire time to study it more carefully." The first section of the bill about which no notice is being said is as follows:

MATHEWILL, March 24.—The doors of the Dekalb County Bank failed to open this morning. A notice is pasted on them, saying that the bank is in the hands of the Secretary of State.

State Bank Examiner Gordon Jones is in charge. The action was taken by the Board of Directors at a late meeting last night, after thoroughly canvassing the condition with the examiner. It was thought that the depositors and creditors would be best paid by the state, and that the bank would lose some slow paper and a large amount of real estate. Its business for the past year has been unprofitable, and its managers and the State authorities. Its

The fac-simile signature of Robert P. Ketcher is on every wrapper of CASTORIA.

PARDON RECOMMENDED.

Jury Convicts Herman Ketcher, but Is Sorry for Him.

Herman Ketcher, charged with fraudulent voting, was tried in Judge Withrow's court Wednesday and sentenced to two years in the penitentiary. The defendant, who is only 23 years old, was charged with having voted in November, 1904, at the polls, 808 Olive street, under the name of Robert P. Ketcher. He has been in jail since.

The jury recommended, in view of the defendant's youth and inexperience and of the fact that he had not been a year in jail, that the Governor pardon him.

"SIEGFRIED."
